

FRIDAY
NOV 24-93

To-day the World's Fair prize winners' exposition opens at the Grand Central Palace, Forty-third Street and Lexington Avenue, New York City.

Many prominent features of the Chicago show besides the winning exhibits, including the Midway Plaisance will be transferred to the new Fair which will attract thousands of visitors and is certain to be a huge success.

Another huge success is our sale of genuine Clay Worsteds Suits to order at $25, better made, better trimmed and far better fitting than any other house could make for $40. Pants to order $5.50. Winter Underwear by the car load, all fine stuffs at low prices.

T. B. GLOSSER,
Tailor and Furnisher,
145 North Main St.

Swab. The Tailor has removed to 138 N. Main Street, New Fall Goods are in and you are invited to call and inspect them.

Goldstandt
Fashionable Tailor
Wichita, Kan.
204 DOUGLAS AVE.

Also exclusive lines of
UNDERWEAR and HOSIERY.
Silk Hats ironed, blocked and cleaned.

The Henning
Piano.

Unsurpassed for Elegantly finished cases, richness and solidity of tone.

Barnes & Newcomb
407 E. DOUGLAS.

MORTGAGEE SALE --- HALF PRICE.

BOOTS, SHOES, SLIPPERS AND ALL LEATHER GOODS AT HALF PRICE.

This Stock Must be Sold to satisfy creditors, so it must be Cut in Two to get the money. First Loss Always the Cheapest.

Sale Commences Friday Morning, November 24.

Ladies fine Kid Shoes, and Slippers, the latest styles. Prices $2, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4, $4.50, $5, $5.50 and $6.

THEY ALL GO AT HALF OF THIS PRICE.

Mens Boots, Shoes and Slippers, the latest styles. Price $3, $3.50, $4, $4.50, $5, $5.50, $6, $6.50, $7 and $8.

THEY ALL GO AT HALF OF THIS PRICE.

Boys Boots and Shoes at half price; Girls Shoes and Slippers at half price; Childrens Shoes and Slippers at half price; big line of School shoes half price. Do you want Shoes, if so attend this sale.

Commencing Friday Morning, November 24.

NO DOUGLASS SHOES IN THIS SALE.

NEFF'S SHOE STORE
S. G. NEFF, Agt.

522 East Douglas Ave. Opposite Carey Hotel.

A WATER-WORKS WAR.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 23.—The first overt act in the past ten days between the National Water-Works company and the city was committed this morning, when a gang of men in the employ of the water company was arrested by the police for digging in the streets without a permit. The company's franchise expired some time ago, and the city bid for the company's plant. The company refused to sell, holding that the price offered by the city was not a fair one, and gave formal notice that if the city did not immediately pay up a certain amount it would shut off the water supply now being given the city. The company this morning sent out a gang of men to mend a leak, as it claimed. While at work the men were arrested, and later were fined for excavating without a permit. The city has decided to compel strict compliance with the charter, which requires every person desiring to excavate to first obtain a permit from the street department. This, it will be seen, will make the company's attempt to turn off the city's water a violation of law, as the city, of course, would refuse to grant the permit necessary to accomplish the company's threat. Further trouble is anticipated.

THE MEXICAN BORDER.

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 23.—Secretary Gresham at the request of Minister Romero, has requested Governor Thornton to aid in seeing that no bands of revolutionists are organized in southern New Mexico. The governor has instructed the sheriffs in the southern counties to keep a sharp lookout and enforce the neutrality laws, and report to him promptly any movement by Mexicans in that section.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 23.—The only development in the border trouble is a report that the revolutionists have taken captive for ransom two rich farmers living near Live Oak, N. M.

THE KANACKAS.

THE SITUATION AT THE HAWAIIAN CAPITAL UNCHANGED.

Minister Willis' Instructions Yet to be Made Known to President Dole and His Cabinet.

A Belief Gaining Ground at Honolulu That an American Protectorate is to be Established Over the Islands.

Secretary Gresham Not Surprised to Learn That the Queen Had Not Been Again Placed in Authority—The Policy of the Administration a Riddle to the Diplomats.

Information Brought by Steamer Withheld From Public.

HONOLULU, Nov. 16.—The main change in the political situation since the Australia sailed has been one of increased strain and greater business depression. Since his formal call to present his credentials Minister Willis has not communicated officially with the government. The most significant happening which has taken place occurred last Monday when a committee of the American league, a lately organized auxiliary of the Annexation club, called on the new minister. The committee stated that the members of the league earnestly desired that the Hawaiian Islands should become a part of the United States, and with that object in view, the organization would support the present provisional government of Hawaii, and in all honorable ways aid in accomplishing annexation.

Mr. Willis replied: "I am an ardent American. I would like to see the stars and stripes waving, not only over Hawaii, but over all the islands of the Pacific ocean, or any other territory which would be beneficial to the United States. The policy of the United States is already formulated regarding the islands, and nothing can avail any longer now. When the proper time shall come, I am sorry I cannot tell you when or how. I wish you to understand, however, that, knowing the policy of the United States, and that the Hawaiian Islands are a part of the United States, I shall have no need of aid from you or other resident Americans. However, I wish to state positively that any outside interference will not be tolerated by the United States."

The provisional government considers Minister Willis' remarks as significant, and from other information obtained it is the general belief among the Americans that a United States protectorate will be shortly established over the islands, with the understanding that a stable form of government shall be organized thereunder within a limited period. Minister Willis' delay in action, coupled with his refusal to divulge or even hint officially what the policy of the United States is, has caused the political strain to become very great on both sides. In consequence of the strained condition of affairs an extra guard of sharpshooters was permanently stationed in the executive building last night. As a further precaution the government issued thirty rounds of extra ammunition to the members of the citizens' reserve guard last night. Two cabinet meetings were held yesterday to consider the situation.

Last Monday morning the ex-queen somewhat unexpectedly called upon Minister Willis at the United States legation, remaining about twenty minutes. Minister Willis had not yet returned the call. The Associated Press correspondent had an interview with Minister Willis just before the Alameda sailed. He said that there would be nothing done or any action taken until after the Alameda sailed. He further said that any trouble precipitated either side would be promptly met by the United States forces. At the last moment before the steamer left the provisional government was informed of the situation.

Minister Willis' instructions have not yet been made known to President Dole and his cabinet. A belief is gaining ground at Honolulu that an American protectorate is to be established over the islands. Secretary Gresham is not surprised to learn that the queen had not been again placed in authority. The policy of the administration is a riddle to the diplomats. Information brought by steamer is withheld from the public.

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

THE KANACKAS.

THE SITUATION AT THE HAWAIIAN CAPITAL UNCHANGED.

Minister Willis' Instructions Yet to be Made Known to President Dole and His Cabinet.

A Belief Gaining Ground at Honolulu That an American Protectorate is to be Established Over the Islands.

Secretary Gresham Not Surprised to Learn That the Queen Had Not Been Again Placed in Authority—The Policy of the Administration a Riddle to the Diplomats.

Information Brought by Steamer Withheld From Public.

HONOLULU, Nov. 16.—The main change in the political situation since the Australia sailed has been one of increased strain and greater business depression. Since his formal call to present his credentials Minister Willis has not communicated officially with the government. The most significant happening which has taken place occurred last Monday when a committee of the American league, a lately organized auxiliary of the Annexation club, called on the new minister. The committee stated that the members of the league earnestly desired that the Hawaiian Islands should become a part of the United States, and with that object in view, the organization would support the present provisional government of Hawaii, and in all honorable ways aid in accomplishing annexation.

Mr. Willis replied: "I am an ardent American. I would like to see the stars and stripes waving, not only over Hawaii, but over all the islands of the Pacific ocean, or any other territory which would be beneficial to the United States. The policy of the United States is already formulated regarding the islands, and nothing can avail any longer now. When the proper time shall come, I am sorry I cannot tell you when or how. I wish you to understand, however, that, knowing the policy of the United States, and that the Hawaiian Islands are a part of the United States, I shall have no need of aid from you or other resident Americans. However, I wish to state positively that any outside interference will not be tolerated by the United States."

The provisional government considers Minister Willis' remarks as significant, and from other information obtained it is the general belief among the Americans that a United States protectorate will be shortly established over the islands, with the understanding that a stable form of government shall be organized thereunder within a limited period. Minister Willis' delay in action, coupled with his refusal to divulge or even hint officially what the policy of the United States is, has caused the political strain to become very great on both sides. In consequence of the strained condition of affairs an extra guard of sharpshooters was permanently stationed in the executive building last night. As a further precaution the government issued thirty rounds of extra ammunition to the members of the citizens' reserve guard last night. Two cabinet meetings were held yesterday to consider the situation.

Last Monday morning the ex-queen somewhat unexpectedly called upon Minister Willis at the United States legation, remaining about twenty minutes. Minister Willis had not yet returned the call. The Associated Press correspondent had an interview with Minister Willis just before the Alameda sailed. He said that there would be nothing done or any action taken until after the Alameda sailed. He further said that any trouble precipitated either side would be promptly met by the United States forces. At the last moment before the steamer left the provisional government was informed of the situation.

Minister Willis' instructions have not yet been made known to President Dole and his cabinet. A belief is gaining ground at Honolulu that an American protectorate is to be established over the islands. Secretary Gresham is not surprised to learn that the queen had not been again placed in authority. The policy of the administration is a riddle to the diplomats. Information brought by steamer is withheld from the public.

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

At the Hawaiian legation Minister Willis was glad to read the letter of the Hawaiian government, but he had nothing to say on the news that was reported.

Speaking later of the dispatches quoted by the Associated Press, Secretary Gresham said that the minister must have been incorrectly reported. Upon reading a statement that Admiral Skerrett had been recalled for attending a ball given by the Hawaiian club, Secretary Gresham said "Absurd!"

NATIONAL FINANCES.

THE CONDITION OF THE TREASURY GROWING SERIOUS.

The Proposal to Issue Bonds to Maintain the Gold Reserve Again Under Advisement.

The Democratic Politicians Anxious to Escape the Responsibility of Such Action—The Estimated Deficit.

Pension Commissioner Lochren Issues Another Order in Reference to the Adjudication of Cases Under the Act of June 27, 1890—The Wilson Committee Incorporates the Income Tax Scheme in the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000. The annulment of the charter makes it impossible for the league's branches in other states to continue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A Democratic senator, who is regarded by many as the leader on that side of the chamber, said that the condition of the treasury would attract the first and most serious attention of congress at the regular session. Other members of the chamber, however, held a different opinion. They say that the subject will have to be met in some practical way. Many go further, and say that legislation is still necessary to improve the general financial condition of the country. What will be the decision made yesterday, Judge Harlan this morning ordered that the charter of the supreme court of the Equitable League of America be annulled; that the corporation be dissolved, and that its assets be turned over to the treasury. The league has assets of $1,316,000, and the membership is estimated at between 2